ARC shop is bursting at the seams! The membership voted to construct more storage space to help with the situation. Renewal of membership is continuing and with over 700 strong, we are an active and vibrant club. It is the vision of being a charity that helps other charities and works with the youth of today that motivates many of our members to volunteer. There are many opportunities to volunteer at our club, and hopefully you will find one or more that suit you and your expertise. Even if you don't have a background in automotive restoration, you can serve the club by monitoring, volunteering at an event (especially our annual car show/swap meet) or stopping by the shop to see what is happening. February is a month with a lot of things that allow our members to look forward to spring and maybe even summer. A special THANK YOU to all our volunteers that keep our club strong and successful.

Founder's Focus A Column by Herb Clark

"This is Car Season"

In February in most parts of the country people, like me, are starting to get the classic car ready for Springtime driving. The winter still has a few more weeks, but I want to be ready for that 1st Model A tour of the year! I am also ready to hit the road and make new friends. For me, the best part about having an old car is waving at the smiling faces who are waving back at me. It is a good feeling that I think I need. With all of the hate going on in our world, driving that old car brings cheer to me.

I am reminded of a time not too long ago when I pulled into a gas station to fill up. Before I got the hose from the pump I was being surrounded by a crowd of smiling people asking questions about the car. I was happy to answer them, but one question caught me off guard. A sweet young lady asked me "if I bought the car new?" I was in my 1931 Model A "Woody." Hmmmm. If you are reading this in February... I will be 77 years young. Do the math! Oh well!! I still love talking to the admirers.

February is ARC's biggest month of the year for many of us. Our annual Car Show is our biggest fundraiser of the year. It pays our bills and allows ARC to be a leader in our community. In the last 12 years I have had numerous requests from other communities on how to get a club like ours going. I have helped them as much as I can, but what they need are people like the members of ARC. There are so many I can't mention them all, but no one has worked harder than Tom and Suzanne Jones! Lauren Matley headed up our first few Car Shows. His work (and others) allowed us to raise the funding to build the building. In recent years Gary Masak has championed the Car Show and as they say, the rest is history!

Please volunteer to help out in our upcoming Car Show! NO EXPERIENCE NEEDED! It is fun to work with a bunch of people who care. Sign up with Gary, or at ARC's front desk. You will be glad you did!

By the time you are reading this my wife Pat and I will be there. We can't wait. Our friends in SCW are so near and dear to us and we miss being there most of the Winter. So, PLEASE if you are new or someone we haven't met, introduce yourself. We would love to meet you!

Synchronizers*

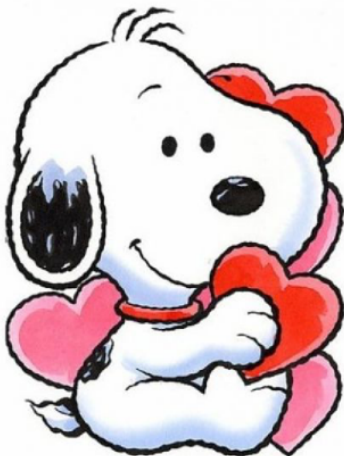

Paul Nordmeyer (#515)

At the ARC general meeting each month, Paul greets us at the door as we swipe our badges before finding a seat. Paul makes all of the ARC badges, accepts dues, and updates the spreadsheet of members. It is the important jobs for our membership which are done behind the scenes, that makes Paul a synchronizer.

Paul was born in Batesville, Indiana but lived in the Chicago suburbs with his wife Ricki from 1966 to 2017. They are now full time residents of Sun City West. Paul has been a member of ARC for eight years.

Paul attended a Franciscan seminary for three years but ended up being an aircraft mechanic for forty-two years. He served in the Army as a helicopter mechanic, and is a Vietnam veteran.

He did a light restoration on a 69 Vette and built a 52 MG replica, but his dream car is a Dodge Viper. Ricki's favorite car is a 63 Falcon convertible 4 speed. We all thank Paul for helping us keep ARC moving forward.

Downshifting

Dave Dunbar (#1542)

Don't I wish I had my '76 Datsun 280Z again! It was my first car with any performance and it was incredible to drive. Even handling winter weather in upstate New York, I traveled the western part of the state with kitchen cabinet samples in back, or skis fastened outside to the rear hatch. But, alas, it was totaled when I was rear ended by a nun at a stoplight.

I fortunately met Laurie in 1979 and she became my permanent guidance counselor in 1984, doing her best to keep me in line for all 44 years. We moved from New York to California, then Arizona, Colorado, and now we're anchored in Arizona full time. A Boxster was fun to autocross with for awhile but mostly I've been driving more practical vehicles.

In 2018, with retirement looming, we determined we'd downsize. Having always worked, from shoveling snow from neighborhood driveways, sweating as a lumberyard grunt, designing and installing kitchens, and selling/servicing trade show exhibits, I feared idleness. But we learned that SCW had that handled, and then Chevrolet brought out the C8 Corvette. Its reviews in 2020 convinced me that it would be an additional focus.....and I was sure I deserved one. I asked my wife a few times. She ultimately blessed it and then contributed ideas on color and options.

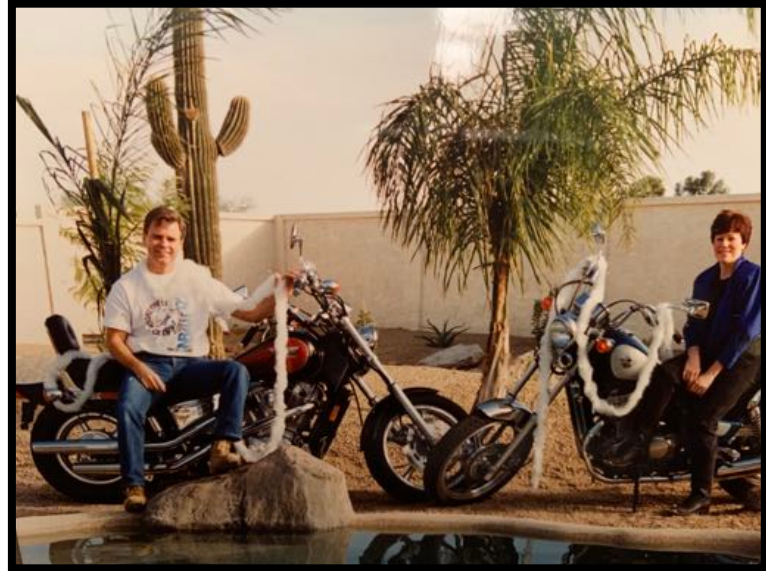

During the 14 month wait for the Corvette, I met Tommy Mares. One day we decided to visit ARC, and toured it with Greg Freeman. Of course, we were astonished at what we saw and filled out the application on the spot. ARC truly is unique in what it offers, especially as what might be described as a community club. I've found camaraderie and friends, even with my so very limited car knowledge. I own no classic or antique but that isn't at all necessary to find common ground here. It's in the membership.

We lost Tommy Mares a year ago. He was a great friend and terrific asset to ARC. I miss him.

A FOUNDING FATHER REMEMBERED

By Dan Kuhl

Henry Ford said: "Any customer can have a car painted any color that he wants, so long as it is black." Lauren Matley followed in his father's footsteps into the auto paint business. While selling paint he became fascinated with auto body technology, and used the rainbow of color he discovered in the paint business to pursue a car restoration hobby. Sadly, Lauren passed away on December 18, 2021. It is only fitting that we take a moment to remember how auto painting has changed and how Lauren's knowledge of the industry helped form the Sun City West (SCW) Auto Restoration Club.

Years ago, when I was making the car show circuit here in Phoenix, I ventured to the far west side of the Valley to see what the Sun Cities had to offer. At this one show was a beautiful '37 Buick convertible owned by Lauren. I found out it was from SCW, and that SCW was going to start a new club with a unique facility to work on old cars. I knew then and there, that was where I wanted to retire.

The story of painting cars begins before Lauren was born in 1933. In fact, it begins before cars first came on the scene when carriages were the most popular mode of travel. The most popular carriage of the day was Studebaker, the world's largest wagon/carriage manufacturer. The painting techniques used by this industry easily transferred to the auto industry, because the first cars were simply motorized "horseless" carriages that could be easily painted and varnished with a brush. When Ford entered the picture he designed cars for the masses on the assembly line, which required a new method of painting.

Ford realized that the color black was the cheapest and easiest way to paint cars. There were cars of different colors but they were hand built for the rich and famous. Ford would go so far as void the warranty on Model T's that were painted a different color by the car owner.

By the late 20's even Ford realized that colors other than black sold more cars. The color choices for the new Ford Model A were amazing. In the 30's the first metallic paints came onto the scene. They were made with herring fish scales. It took almost 100,000 herring to make a gallon of metallic paint!

Lauren entered the car painting world in the early 50's. The 50's were known as the "Golden Age" of the automobile. Manufacturers were experimenting with various color combinations and interiors designed by women that incorporated sizzle to attract the female buyer. Examples include the pink Dodge La Femme, the Studebaker Lime and Lemon Speedster, and the kaleidoscope of pastels offered on the Lincoln Premiere. And on top of that, there was an ongoing horsepower race that drove up the interest of the male buyer. Examples include the Oldsmobile Rocket 88 and the Chrysler Hemi. Also, something new was happening in the 50's - hot rods and auto restorations were now becoming popular. It was an incredible time to be in the auto body business.

Lauren became interested in old cars and their restoration along with his auto body business. There were cars everywhere that needed to be painted, especially with the increase in auto travel with the ever-expanding Interstate Highway System, initiated by President Eisenhower in 1956. Lauren became very well versed in the techniques used in auto painting which were simply a rehash of methods that had been used in the industry for many years. He didn't know that he would soon have to learn the base coat/clear coat paint technology that was sweeping Europe and Japan at this time.

By the mid 90's the new "wet look" created with the base-coat/clear-coat paint was being applied to 80% of the new cars being manufactured. The auto body shops would have to learn a new technology involving HVLP (High Volume Low Pressure) systems that met clean air regulations. They also had to learn how to use clean air equipment that would protect workers from the hazards of prepping and painting a car. The body shops learned the technology so well that the quality, durability, and beauty were better than what the factory turned out just a few years before. Lauren learned the new technology so well that he was asked to refinish a 1923 Lincoln touring car that is on display in the Lemay Auto Museum in Tacoma and another car, a 1929 Lincoln touring car that was invited to Pebble Beach, where it did very well.

After completing his career, Lauren and his wife Marion left the Northwest and moved to SCW. In SCW Lauren met other car enthusiasts who were interested in starting an auto restoration club. Lauren became involved in a big way, becoming a vice president and president. A Club facility was soon built that was nationally recognized as the only auto restoration club in a retirement community, until Sun City recently added a similar facility. Many people are moving to Sun City West to be a part of this Club. For Lauren the crowning touch to the club facility was the completion of the prep and paint area that came online in 2019. His wife Marion and Lauren are pictured together at the paint booth dedication. Rest in Peace Lauren.

Author Notes:

- When Lauren was wrapping up his career in auto-body a new "water based" paint was coming on the scene. Today this product is the only legal product in California.
- Lauren recommended a "guide coating" which is a layer of black paint sprayed from a rattle-can onto the primer coat to show high and low imperfections before the final finish is applied. Lee Schwartz, the current manger of the paint booth, can be seen using this prep tool often.
